Literacy:

In Literacy this week we will be creating a mind map plan about a lost toy story. We will be thinking about the beginning (where did your character go? What toy did they take?), the middle (what happened to the toy? How did your character feel?) and the end (what happened? How did your character find the toy?) Then, we will be writing the story. We will write the story in sections each day – beginning, middle and then end.
